My Musical Magical Hat

Timothy Redmond Conductor
Ruth Rosales Presenter
Cambridge Philharmonic Orchestra

Hello and welcome to Cambridge Philharmonic's annual family concert!

Today we're delighted to be joined by Ruth Rosales, who has presented concerts for young audiences throughout the UK, and we're going to be asking a very important question: do you choose a musical instrument, or does it choose you?

With the help of the Cambridge Philharmonic we'll be finding out about all the instruments of the orchestra and by the end of the concert, who knows, maybe you'll know which one you'd like to play.

And next time you hear an orchestra – at a concert, on TV, or during a film – remember that once upon a time, all those amazing musicians were children who had to decide which instrument they wanted to play, just like you!

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Tim Redmond". Below the signature is a long, horizontal, slightly curved line that tapers at both ends, serving as a decorative flourish.

Tim Redmond
Principal Conductor
Cambridge Philharmonic

Presenter: Ruth Rosales

Ruth is a freelance animateur and bassoonist working in the United Kingdom. Half English and half Venezuelan, she grew up in the Lake District, before studying at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London and at Hamburg Hochschule für Musik und Theater. In 2013 she was accepted onto the Spitalfields Music Animateur Trainee Scheme and now divides her time between her orchestral career and education work.

Ruth has presented schools and family orchestral concerts for the Hallé, Welsh National Opera, Ensemble 360 and Music in the Round, Southwell Festival, the Royal Northern Sinfonia, the City of London Sinfonia, the Brandenburg Sinfonia, Deal Festival, the Multi Storey Orchestra, and Southbank Sinfonia. She has also led creative music workshops for the Philharmonia Orchestra, Northern Chords Festival, Music4Life and City of London Sinfonia. She is really looking forward to working with the Cambridge Philharmonic Orchestra!
